

INDEX

TO

VOLUME LI.

- 'Amelia, &c.,' Patmore's, 213.
'Angel in the House,' Patmore's, 213.
'Argument from Prophecy,' Maitland's, 485.
- 'Biblical Commentary on the Book of Job,' Delitzsch's, 52.
'Book of Job, The,' explained and illustrated, Carey's, 52.
Book of Job, The, 52; stone-worship, 52; serpent-worship, 55; star-worship, 57; the dragon, 59; the helpers of Rahab, 61; the eye and the ear, 63; deep sleep, 65; intuition, 67; the living God, 69; tradition, 71; patriarchal morality, 73; sacrifice, 75; the daysman, 77; the future, 79; Hades, 81; the Redeemer, 83.
- 'Can We Believe in Miracles?' Warrington's, 485.
'Celtic Scotland,' Skene's, 497.
Chambers Brothers, The, 1; Weaver James and his young wife, 3; prototypes of Miss Abbey Potterson and Silas Wegg, 5; French invasion of Peebles, 7; 'he that tholes overcomes,' 9; Robert's disappointment, 11; William's first adventure, 13; an artistic reedmaker, 15; traditions of Edinburgh, 17; literary help from Sir W. Scott, 19; Chambers's Edinburgh Journal, 21; Robert Chambers and Robert Burns, 23; the Book of Days, 25; the success of self-help, 27.
- 'China, &c.,' Gray's, 136.
'China, &c.,' Richtofen's, 136.
China and the Chinese, 136; Mr. Wells Williams, 137; will the Chinese empire break up? 139; filial piety, 141; honour to worthy officials, 143; deified mortals, 145; reality of Chinese culture, 147; marriage customs, 149; slavery not unknown, 151; orders of nobility, 153; superstitions, 155; lucky and unlucky days, 157; workhouses, 159; restaurants' bills of fare, 161; roads and bridges, 163; rice, beans, and stock, 165; the navy, 167; Archdeacon Gray, 169; the Chinese character, 171; Baron Richtofen's book, 173; unity of mankind, 175; Conclusion, 177.
- 'Christian Work in Australia,' Bickford's, 253.
'Cœna Domini,' Macnaught's, 473.
'Commentary on Job,' Davidson's, 52.
Conferences, Scientific Loan Apparatus, 242.
- 'Cyprus,' Cesnola's, 372; 'Cyprus,' Lang's, 372; 'Cyprus,' Loher's, 372; Cyprus, 372; French designs on Cyprus, 373; the climate, 375; Cesnola's "finds," 377; Lusignan's 'Myths and Legends,' 379; early history, 381; conquests by Richard Cœur de Lion, 383; sack of Nicosia, 385; hopes for the future, 387; the Maronites, 389; Ross's travels, 391; low price of land, 393; plunder of antiques, 395; Cesnola and his consulars, 397; the tail of the American Eagle, 399; Mr. Lang's book, 401; geology of the island, 403.

- 'Description de Cypre,' Lusignan's, 372.
 'Dictionary of English Literature,' Adams's, 259.
 Dr. Arnold's Sermons, 109; his vocation, 111; breadth of his views, 113; his ecclesiastical position, 115; Arnold and the evangelicals, 117; simplicity of his style, 119; his earnestness, 121; Arnold in the Rugby pulpit, 123; influence on his pupils, 125; vices of school-life, 127; his moderation, 129; some defects, 131; the doctrines of grace, 133; conclusion, 135.
 Dr. Graetz and St. Paul, 449; Saul's early history, 451; theory of his conversion, 453; Christianity perfected by St. Paul, 455; St. Paul in Damascus, 457; the law and the Gentiles, 459; Jewish and Gentile Christians, 461; St. Paul as an ethical teacher, 463; St. Paul and the law, 465; St. Paul among the Gentiles, 467; St. Paul's preaching, 469; theories of modern Judaism, 471.
 Dr. Graetz on Jesus Christ and Christianity, 178; Dr. Graetz and the Tübingen school, 179; Christianity in its origin, 181; the Essenes, 183; John the Baptist, 185; the schools of criticism, 187; Nazareth, 189; the Essenes, 191; the Essenic precepts, 193; Jesus and the Gentiles, 195; miracles, 197; revelation of his Messiahship, 199; Jesus and the Samaritans, 201; the Son of God, 203; the death of Jesus, 205; His disciples, 207; the early church, 209; St. Paul, 211.
 Expositor, The, 1876—1878, 52.
 'Faust of Goethe,' Colquhoun's, 213.
 Fernley Lecture for 1878, The, 265; its testimony to evangelical truth, 267; its definition of life, 269; too narrow and too wide, 271; the apparent unity not maintained, 273; life of the soul as an intelligence, 275; intellectual life indestructible, 277; life lies deeper than phenomena, 279; definition of death, 281; all relations not sundered by death, 283; bodily and spiritual life not perfect parallels, 285; ditto, 287; spiritual death not a negation of spiritual life, 289; both are positive but opposed principles, 291; Scriptural meaning of "the flesh," 293; holiness and depravity, 295; death as the sanction of the law, 297; "suffering is not death," 299; the destruction of the body not taught in Scripture, 301; the resurrection of the unjust, 303; positive manifestations of Divine wrath, 305; the hypothesis favours annihilationism, 307; a false method, 309; three cardinal errors, 311.
 'Flood of years,' Bryant's, 213.
 'Folklore of China,' Dennys's, 136.
 'French Dictionary,' Bellows's, 527.
 Friend of China, The, 136.
 'Geschichte der Juden,' Graetz's (Vol. III.), 178, 449.
 'Gibbon,' Morison's, 490.
 'Golden Diary,' Edersheim's, 264.
 'Habitual Drunkenness,' Bucknill's, 525.
 'Histoire de l'Isle de Cyprus,' Mas-Latrie's, 372.
 'Histoire Générale des Royaumes de Hierusalem, Cyprus,' &c., Lusignan's, 372.
 'History of the Reformation in the times of Calvin,' D'Aubigné's, 477.
 'History of the English Bible,' Moulton's, 480.
 'History of the English Church,' Vol. I. Dixon's, 84; high-church theory, 85; were the Reformers heretics? 87; Cranmer not a puppet, 89; Crumwel and Foxe, 91; William Tyndale, 93; Bishop Coverdale, 95; motives and measures, 97; supremacy, 97; meaning of spiritual jurisdiction, 101; the monasteries, 103; creeds, 105; the future of the English Church, 107.
 Immediate Future of the United States, 346; the political outlook, 347; a revived patriotism, 349; the working men's party, 351; currency inflation, 353; employments of the people, 355; depression of trade, 357; agriculture, 359; exports of goods, 361; Massachusetts' industries, 363; average wages, 365; railways, 367; the South, 369; one republic or several? 371.

- 'Irish Architectural Antiquities,' Dunraven's, 246.
- 'Johnson,' Stephen's, 490.
- 'Land of Bolivar,' Spence's, 514.
- 'Laws of Therapeutics,' Kidd's, 521.
- 'Lessing,' Sime's, 425.
- Lessing's Life and Works, 425; early life, 427; influence of the French stage, 429; Lessing as critic, 431; studies at Wittenberg, 433; desultory habits, 435; fables, 437; the "Laokoon," 439; nature of tragedy, 441; ripe fruit, 443; Professor Huxley's dictum, 445; results, 447.
- Letters of Rev. R. Robertson on present state of Zululand, 29.
- 'Life of George Combe,' Gibbon's, 222.
- 'Life of Benjamin Du Plan,' Bonnefon's, 251.
- 'Life and Death, sanctions of the law of love,' Olver's, 265.
- Literature Primers,' Green's, 234.
- Mariti, 372.
- 'Middle Kingdom, The,' Williams's, 136.
- Memoir of Robert Chambers, 1.
- 'Mémoires de la Société Géologique de France,' Gaudry's, 372.
- 'Modern Frenchmen,' Hamerton's, 508.
- 'Moral Difficulties,' Hessey's, 485.
- 'Notes of My Life,' Denison's, 482.
- 'Old Church, The,' Hughes's, 255.
- 'Our Common Land,' Hill's, 258.
- 'Our English Bible,' Stoughton's, 480.
- Outlines of Sermons, 264.
- Pandurang Hári, 261.
- People of Turkey, 405; curious customs at birth, 407; Turkish mismanagement of children, 409; preparatory and technical schools, 411; Turkish obsequies, 413; origin of the Bulgarians, 415; marriage customs, 417; deficient educational facilities, 419; the Greeks in Turkey, 421; the Armenians, 423.
- 'Poems and Ballads,' Swinburne's, 213.
- 'Popular Astronomy,' Newcomb's, 244.
- 'Primers,' Macmillan's, 230.
- 'Ravenna,' Wild's, 213.
- 'Recherches Scientifiques en Orient,' Gaudry's, 372.
- 'Reisen nach Kos, &c.,' Ross's, 372.
- Report on the Deccan Ryot's Commission, 504.
- Report on the Ryots, 504.
- Report of Diplomatic Visit to Ketchweyo, 29.
- 'Romance of Missions, The,' 405.
- Round about France, 511.
- 'Scott,' Hutton's, 490.
- 'Selected Poems,' Arnold's, 213.
- 'Sermons,' Arnold's, 109.
- 'Shelley,' Symonds's, 490.
- 'Speaker's Commentary, The,' Vol. IV., 52.
- Stanley's 'Through the Dark Continent,' 313; the work done, 315; the Nile's remotest sources, 317; Lake Victoria, 319; Mtesa a catechumen, 321; the end of the war, 323; a reverie in Central Africa, 325; Sambuzi's collapse, 327; Mirambo, the bandit, 329; the gentle Rumanika, 331; circumnavigation of Tanganika, 333; the mysterious Tanganika problem, 335; "Westward ho!" 337; the terrible gauntlet, 339; the climax of sorrow, 341; cui bono? 343; the negro's future, 345.
- 'Stargazing,' Lockyer's, 244.
- 'Stories from Homer,' Church's, 234.
- 'Studies in Spectrum Analysis,' Lockyer's, 246.
- 'Sunday Morning Sermons,' Jay's, 256.
- 'Tropical Nature,' Wallace's, 237, 518.
- 'Troubadours,' Hueffer's, 262.
- Visit to King Ketchweyo, 29.
- 'View of Hindoo Law,' Nelson's, 504.
- Zululand and the Zulus, 29; flora and fauna, 31; Zulu warfare, 33; Panda, 35; relations with British Government, 37; Bishop Colenso, 39; Magema's narrative, 41; vindication of Sir T. Shepstone, 43; Bishop Colenso and the Zulus, 45; Christian missionaries, 47; Mr. Robertson's reply, 49; conclusion, 51.

